

In accordance with CAPM 39-1, Civil Air Patrol Uniform Manual, dated 23 March 2005, the following provisions apply to members of the John J. Montgomery Memorial Cadet Squadron 36. These specifications apply for regular squadron meetings and functions and do not take the place of guidance provided by other CAP organizations when personnel are engaged in duties outside the squadron. Note: Shaded areas identify new or revised material.

1-1. Weight, Grooming, and Professional Appearance.

(Authority: CAPM 39-1, Table 1-2, Note 2, Page 12.)

a. Members that choose to wear USAF style uniforms represent both the Civil Air Patrol and through association, the Air Force. Without exception, senior members and cadet members that choose to wear the USAF style uniforms must meet USAF/CAP-established weight and professional appearance standards in order to wear the USAF style uniform at any squadron meeting or function. The commander will make no exceptions that counter the mandates established within CAPM 39-1.

b. Whether in USAF style or CAP Distinctive uniforms, members will be tactfully and professionally asked to correct uniform discrepancies and may be dismissed from a meeting or event for an inability to comply, subject to the commander's (or designee's) approval.

1-2. Squadron Headgear for Optional Wear.

a. Black baseball cap with the emblem "36" embroidered in white, centered vertically and horizontally on the forward face of the cap. The cap will not be rolled, boxed, or crushed. No other features such as stars, rank insignia, designs, "clouds and darts," or names are authorized. Exception: staff position title, such as "Testing Officer," may be embroidered in small white letters along the back of the cap to identify ownership.

b. This headgear is a privately-purchased item.

c. This item may be worn with the following uniforms.

- (1) Woodland Battle Dress Uniform (BDU.)
- (2) CAP Distinctive Blue Field Uniform.
- (3) USAF style Sage Green NOMEX Flight Suit.
- (4) CAP (Royal or Dark) Blue Flight Suit.
- (5) CAP Blue Field Utility Uniform.
- (6) All Aviator Shirt Combinations.
- (7) CAP Golf/Polo Shirt Combinations.

1-3. T-Shirt for Optional Wear.

a. Black T-shirt preferred, brown t-shirt acceptable, crew neck, without pockets, long sleeve or short sleeve. Black or brown turtlenecks or thermal undershirts without pockets may also be worn. EXCEPTION: members may wear white thermal undershirts even if exposed at the neck.

b. T-shirts with squadron logo will be black, crew necked, with the squadron designation in cloth or silk screen, worn on left side of chest not exceeding 5 inches in diameter. Emblem must not show when BDU shirt is worn.

c. T-Shirt must be visible at the neck.

d. The squadron T-shirt is a privately purchased item.

e. T-shirt may be worn with the following uniforms.

- (1) Woodland Battle Dress Uniform (BDU.)

(2) CAP Distinctive Blue Field Uniform.

(3) USAF style Sage Green NOMEX Flight Suit.

(4) CAP Blue Field Utility Uniform.

1-4. Flight Clothing.

a. For morale purposes, senior members, cadet officers, and cadet senior noncommissioned officers may wear flight attire in place of the woodland BDU or CAP blue field uniform no more than one meeting per month.

b. Exceptions to wearing flight attire include planned activities that require a member wearing the BDU or CAP blue field uniform for inspection purposes, or other reasons specified by the commander.

c. Flight attire and all accoutrements for flight attire are privately-purchased items.

d. Specified members may wear the following once per month.

(1) USAF style Sage Green NOMEX Flight Suit (senior members and specified cadets, 18 years or older, that meet USAF/CAP-established weight, grooming, and professional appearance standards.)

(2) CAP Royal or Dark Blue Flight Suit (senior members and specified cadets, that either choose not to wear the Sage Green NOMEX Flight Suit or do not meet USAF/CAP established weight, grooming, and professional appearance standards.)

1-5. Civilian Outergarments with USAF style Uniforms.

a. Cadets wearing civilian outergarments will remove such attire upon entering any building and will be expected to be in full compliance with CAPM 39-1.

b. Cadet members that do not own USAF style outergarments will make every attempt to obtain the correct garment in order to fully comply with CAPM 39-1, to include seeking surplus through squadron uniform supplies.

1-6. Physical Fitness Attire.

a. Senior members and cadet members may wear any form of workout attire when engaging in physical conditioning activities, so long as the attire does not interfere with good order, morale, and safety. It will be the squadron's responsibility, should the squadron wish to have personnel wear matching workout attire, to provide said attire to the membership.

1-7. Additional Items on Uniform Combinations.

a. All items not expressly described in CAPM 39-1, dated 23 Mar 2005, or legally supplemented by CAWG's 39-1 Supplement 1, dated 16 Feb 2006, may not be worn on any uniform combination for squadron meetings and functions.
